John 13:34, 35

“THEIR Proof of Who YOU Really Are”

34 A new commandment
I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.

35 By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to
another.

In a hateful, perverted,
and cruel world, one
might think those who
call themselves “Christians” would

be a light, an example, of this biblical lifestyle.

One may assume Christians exemplify
this single principle—
love one to another.
Most sadly, that is not always the case.

Generally speaking, the brethren seem to have missed the memo.

Maybe they are false
brothers and sisters.

Maybe that's why they do not "have love one
to another" and maybe
that's at least one reason many who
believe themselves to be good Christian
church-folk, can't seem to simply show the

most basic kindness,
and certainly not love.

Unfortunately, many don't even seem to
know they SHOULD be showing love. HOW to do so isn't even a
thought for them.

Jesus taught that the way Believers treat one another, their love one to another, is the way “men” (people; other humans) recognize or identify people who profess to be Believers as legitimate Believers.

People know real disciples, followers, of Christ by this test—“if you have love

one to another”.

And how will they
know it unless you
SHOW it?

If one shows greed,
pride, selfishness,
hatred, strife, envy, etc, (the works of the flesh; Galatians 5) people will equate them with
hypocrisy.

They will say they are definitely NOT a Believer or in any way a follower of Christ. If you don't follow the
teachings of Christ,
how are you a “Christian”?

Are people Christians
because they regularly attends church? Is a person automatically a

child of the most High because he or she was born having a certain
shade of skin or was born into a wealthy
family?

Is a person a follower
of Christ because someone said they were or because they were physically
dunked in a pool

of water?

Regardless to what one
calls oneself or another person, it does not make them a true
anything.

So, no one is a true
disciple of Christ
unless there is proof of
who they really are in the action of one

Believer's love toward another Believer.

That's, according to Scripture, the
nonbelievers' proof
of who is or is not a Believer.

It's proof of who
you really are.
